DEAR INTERIOR: -We left "N'awline" as the natives recklessly pronounce the name of the fair metropolis of the Southon the same principle, I suppose, that my own people call their chiefcity "Looavut," on the evening of Monday, the 11th, at duck. We returned by the road we came, the Illinola Central, and reachad McComb about 10 o'clock, in a drenching rain. Raining is reduced to a science la Mlesiesippl, as I have intimated before; and Drucker's new trunks were tested as to their water-proof capacity, as the fuckless heap of them stood on the truck, with the akles pouring bucketsful upon their devoted sides, tops, bottoms, while the gentle offi cials, whose duty it is to bandle railroad baggage, bovering erount in india rubber impenetratiee, placed them in suitable poeltions to be searched by the descending showers. A "baggage-amasher" is, er officio somathing terrible, when he comes in contact with the appropriate prey. He earne ble ealary by persistently doing comething "agin" our portable property. He would be on "unfaithful servant" If he failed in inflicting some kind of a damage in fronti u upon the packages committed to his tender care. The age waits for some insana per- always ensanguined with the sad memory son of large property, who, wholly regard less of self, will spend a vast fortune in hiring detectives; waylaying baggage emashers; prosecuting bloated corporations, right and left; lobbying in legislatures; with one soli tary object in view-the protection of travellers' luggage, intrnsted to public carriers. Some Bergh or Captain Comatock to give his time, taleuts and money to effect a long while the stricken wife stood on the reform, and win the gratitude of the travel- crumbling verge of madness, and to this ing world. I fear the millenlum will dawn

The ill-balanced foad, upon the truck, resents the attempt to drag the heavy-laden vehicle over the elde track and down go three of Drucker's new beauties-kersloch-in a puddle of mud and water. The downpouring rain is not enough. Let Drucker be tried by enother to decide that question. So we went to test, to find whether he has put up a good bed, and the next day boarded the freight. job. Slowing nur bedraggled baggage is It was a trifle over three hours behind lifted from its oozy bed, dripping, sorrow- time and we lost our dinners on this lag lully with streams of yellow tears, and glug line. W. P. WALTON,

THE country can breathe freer. That abominable steal, the pauper pension bill is dead in the House of its friends, though ing this grand hue and cry. In fact the majority, made up of republicane and 3S renegade democrate, was in its favor, but fortunately for the country it takes a ing for the maintenance of the Union, lovtwo-third majority to override the objections of the executive to a hill. The vote stood 175 against to 125 for sustaining the veto. Randail and that other old frand, who has made some reputation as an objector to small appropriations. Hoiman, of Indiana, voted with the majority to rob the South, for the millions would come principaily from her, as what she contributes does not return to her as in the North. Gen. On the original passage of the hill the Senate was practically unanimous for it and the House voted 180 to 76 in its favor. In the face of such a majority it took no ordinary man to rise to the importance of the occasion and say "No such hill shall become a law with my consent," but Mr. Cleveland is no ordinary man. He is every inch as brave and as hold as Andrew Jackson was and the country owse him a deht of gratitude which it cao only repay by a unanimous renomination for president and a practically unanimous re-election.

No murder has occurred there for years and the criminal court meets and adjourne frequently without a case. That's the kind of a country we came from, gentlemen, and very fully accounts for the fact that we are "as mild a mannered man as ever cut a throat or ecuttled a ship."

SPEAKING of Senator Harris' two republican votes and Buckner's failure to vote Harrodeburg Democrat says: "Gen. -The day operator from this place went down to the washout Wednesday night and had in an office till the treck was clear

-Pat Welch and Rob Newcomb had a heated discussion a few evenings since and came to blows. Pat received a slight cut in the left cheek from a knife in Rob's hands.

-Charles Childers' examining trial for killing Brownlow Cownsend at Pine Hill a few days since came up before Judge Colyer Saturday and the defendant was held to answer in the sum of $500. The bond not being made he was remanded to jail.

-A small ripple of excitement was cre ated here last Friday eyening when come one reported that P. T. Barnum was on the South bound train; though it soon subsided when some person said he was on the bunt, for his museum, for a freight conductor who was never known to grumble.

-T I. Wallace returned from Garrard Thursday. Miss Cleo Williams returned Friday from a pleasant visit to Crab Or better. James Croucher is up from Gerrard for a few days visit. Sam't Brown, who has been braking on the main stem since the strike, is at home for a sbort time.

-Last August a man left a dark bay mare at the stable connected with the Newcomb Hotel under suspicious circumstan cer. A few days eince Sheriff White re celved a letter from W. S. Mabin, Wilmore, Jessamine county, making inquiries for such an animal. Thursday that gentleman arrived here with proper proof of bis took the mare and left for home.

-Your London correspondent is correct when he says a candidate's "fool frienda" often cause more damage than good to their standard bearet's cause, by making fool remarks, statements, etc. when it would be best for their come to keep their mouthe closed. For instance, a Madison man some time ago made the remark that he could buy the d n pauper county for a trifling sum. The county is down in the so celied pauper liet, but our people are rather sensitive on that point, and don't care to be told of it too often even by their best friends.

-The Leader correspondent from this place in his letter to last week's paper, (which issue never came to light) made mention of a very pleasant visit to Stanford, a week since. His cordial reception by the Interior Journal force was greatly appreciated. His taking tea with Mr. W. and meeting his estimable wife was a pleasant feature of his trip. He says that he had been under the impression that he was a worker himself, but after seeing the energetic attaches of the I. J. office he came to the conclusion that he was but a lounger when compared with these laborers from Workville on the head waters of Rush creek.

this place Saturday morning, aged about your names will be withdrawn from this list: 50. He was buried Sunday. For many years he hed been a prominent railroad construction boss and contractor and had Plorence, J. F., I acre at Tura oraville, $1.35: built roads in meny States of the Union and as far South as the city of Mexico from whence he returned two years since after an | Haley, David E., 60 acres, Milledgeville, $140; absence of five years. He hed many warm personal friends here. For nearly a year he had not been able to utter a word on account of his vocal organs heing paralyzed. He was a brother in law of Mr. M. J. Miller, of this place.

One of the smoothest and most pleas. ant writers we have ever had the pleasure of reading after is M T. Craft, formerly of the London Leader, and if we mistake not journalism is his forte. Laurel county and the mountains greatly need such a man at Manly, Ira, 2tueres, Milledgeville, '85, 60 cents; the head of a democratic paper. Since dis Massey, James, 'O acres on Green River, '85 and posing of the Leader some thme since on account of his health we understand he has improved to a considerable extent and we, Sprinkles, Win., 10 acres, Mason Gap, $1 55; with many others of this county, would be glad to have him again in the newspaper business, where he is so emineutly fitted to chine as a bright journalletic etar.

-A half sheet of the Echo was what the Leader subscribere received here Friday in which a short paragraph informed them of Wright. Suran R, lot in Husionville, 81.45: the Leader's discontinuance. They are feeling a little sore over their trealment at the Beasley, John, 25 seres, Boneyville, $3; hands of the manager of the Leader and say Brown, Hawking, lot Milledgeville, $2 10; it was but justice and a duly of the editor Burton, Phillip, 5 acres, McKinney, 40 cents. to have issued a final number with some explanation or etatement of the facts as lo Brown, Ed. totin Mckinney, $2 15; the cause, if any existed, for his disposition Blate, Laura, lot 40 cents. of his and his subscribers' interests to an Breckluridge, Abe, lot, $1 75; other party, especially one of a different political faith. Something of this kind would have gone a long ways towards mitigating the sai disappointment experienced by a majority of the Leader's patrone in this county.

-Recent rains have coused great distruction to property in this county. Wm. Cooper helrs, 35 cents: Whitaker's mill, near the mouth of Skagge creek was carried away a few nights since; not even the etones were ieff. A house occupied by Mrs. R. Price, at Livingston, Gentry, Green, " Boated off, carrying most of the family's Gentry, Ruben heirs, " household effects. The mili men at Liv. logston lose over a hundred thousand feet of lumber they had stacked on the yard Molloberts, Tilda, 8 acres, Turnersville, '85 and '86 It is said that two beds of gondola cars that were standing near the mill were lifted from their trucks and washed away. Mr. Sambrook's etable, at Livingston, was flooded and two fine yokes of oxen and some hogs were drowned. A number of Rout, Ersy, lot in Bonyville, 40 cents; muies in the same stable made their es. Riffe, Susan, 4 acres, Mt. Salein, $1 15; cape. Rockcastle River was two feet high - Roe, Bettle, 10 acres, Bony ville, 1 20; er than was ever known.

Writion for the INFACIOR JOUANAL. ONLY A DREAM .-

The following itnes ere supposed to be en enswer to a young ledy who wrote to her lover:-"Our days have been sweet and blissful; but henceforth we can be no more than friands. Taink of the past as only o dream:"

The words threelf hast spoken, Our bonds of love are riven, Ulve back each cherished token That I have to then given, Forget the love piedzed foudly. Vows once our dearest theme:

True! our ilves have been blissful. All music end auesblue: Oh! hearts shell long be wistful For days like mine and thins.

The past eye! shall be only

A dream, a dream, a dream

But they are gone; lea's kindly A walt the morrow's gleem; The past is only -only

A droom-o droam-a droam! The world will yet adore thes, And prize thee for e walle, And perchaece bring before m:

Some other eyes to smile, So be it - but when looely. One day thy life shall seem Sigh not: "Would it were only

That is a fact You can not pick up a copy of a paper without reading the edvertisement of a remedy that is advertised to cure all the diseases in the cetalogue. But that is as far as , the advertisement goes. A remedy should be like a person-If put on trialeble to give a recommendation. It is a stranger to you end you want it identified. It may have all the appearance of being good end yet be worth-Iess. The Carbolle Smoke Bail does this. It comes to you and says: "I will care diseases of the bromchial tubes, throat and Inogs," and than it holds it up and proves the statement true by living witnesses whom you know. The Carbolic Smake Bail has relieved hundreds in Lonisville and is adding to the list every day, and we feel saie in giving it our recomendation, so that people from abroad msy know of its qualities.—[Apoetolic Gulde.
